

Kids will love making these Father's Day gift vouchers with a candy bonus. Print the cards onto colored cardstock or heavyweight paper. Trim off the second page on the indicated line. Glue the two pages together lining up the border. Students will want to color the bubble letters. Glue candy bars in the spaces provided. This makes a great gift for Dad.

#1 ~ No need to Rolo ver and beg. This is worth one hour of Extra chores. You may use it Now and Later without even a PayDay.

#2 ~ Please don't Snickers! I promise to clean my room. I know it looks like an alien that Orbits the Milky Way has been there, but I'll clean until it Satisfies you.

#3 ~ I know I have become Nutrageous going here and there, but this is a promise. I will spend one day with you doing anything you wish. We can play games, garden, or even Fish with Worms. Hugs and Kisses

#4 ~ I.O.U. one hour of uninterrupted time. I'm sure it would be a Life Saver for you to have rest after the Mounds of work you do. I promise not to be a Butterfinger and drop anything and to be as quiet as a mouse with no Laffy Taffy.
